ZOOM: A FEW DO's and DON'Ts

- Mute after you introduce yourself on a Zoom meeting.
- Remember everyone can see you, be sure you are appropriately dressed and that your camera is focused on your face.
- You don't need to stand for the Pledge. If you do decide to stand, adjust your camera.
- Don't move around during the meeting, it's distracting to others. Keep your cell phone, and iPad stationary during the meeting. Prop it up so it is face level. Moving around will cause unnecessary noise; be sure you are muted if you must move to another location.
- Remind others in your home that you are in a Zoom meeting.
- If connecting with Zoom outdoors, remember every noise such as the wind, dogs barking, cars passing by, will transmit through your microphone, mute until you are requested to speak.
- Wear a headset and microphone specially if there is noise in your house or outside that could be distracting to others. Purchase a headset and microphone if you have some hearing difficulties.
- Silence distractions such as your phone ringing, dogs, others in the house – very distracting to those presenting.
- Raise your hand or your "virtual" hand while in Zoom. Try not to talk out of turn.
- If your Zoom administrator allows it, log in to the meeting 10 minutes early, to be sure your equipment is working properly.
- If you need to leave the room, be sure to cover up your camera. Tape a small piece of paper over the camera if you have no other way to close your camera.
- If you are presenting and sharing your screen, have the application opened with the presentation. Consider practicing "sharing your screen" beforehand, if you have never used the shared feature before. You can always ask your Zoom administrator for a "test" Zoom meeting, so that you could practice with another member of your club and be comfortable with how it works.
- If for some reason you are "knocked" out of Zoom, go back to the original invitation and log in again.
- Speak close to your microphone. If you are using an older microphone, you should purchase an updated external microphone. They are relatively inexpensive, easily attached to your computer and will produce higher sound quality.
- Glitches happen, just ignore and continue. (Glitch is a tech term..."sometimes things just go wrong".)

ROTARY LEADERSHIP ACADEMY <http://arizonarla.org/>

Districts 5500 and 5495 formed a partnership to lead and coordinate Rotary Leadership Academy, an innovative online learning approach to Rotary leadership development first created in 2004. It is the Academy's mission is to train identified and selected Rotarians for future district leadership roles while simultaneously understanding and being sensitive to the demands on Rotarians time and busy schedules. Annually, Past District Governors, current Governors, current Assistant Governors and RLA graduates nominate candidates for the academy. These nominees past Rotary club Presidents, Rotary Leadership Institute (RLI) graduates and Rotarians interested in leadership roles beyond their clubs are provided training which prepares them for the "next step," a district leadership role. This course is completely online and self-paced.
